The Copper and Brass Supply Chain Association

Michael Russo
CBSCA President

Dear Members,

I hope this message finds you well and thriving as we move through the summer months. August is always a busy time in our industry, and I'm excited to bring you this edition of the Copper and Brass Supply Chain Association newsletter, filled with the latest news, updates and opportunities within our vibrant community.

One of the most significant events on our calendar is quickly approaching: the Red Metals Summit, which will be held from November 5 – 6, 2024, in Chicago, IL. This summit promises to be an exceptional gathering of industry leaders, innovators and stakeholders, providing an unparalleled opportunity to network, share insights and discuss the future of our field.

I am pleased to announce that registration is now open for the Red Metals Summit! I encourage all members to register early to secure your spot and start planning for an informative and productive event.

Additionally, we have arranged a special room block at a discounted rate for our attendees. Be sure to book your hotel room by October 7, 2024 to take advantage of this offer. Staying at the designated hotel not only provides cost savings but also ensures you're at the heart of the event, making it easier to participate in all the activities.

One of the exciting changes this year is our new condensed schedule. We have streamlined the summit to make the best use of your time while still delivering high-quality content, education and networking opportunities. The shorter format means you'll get the most out of the event without sacrificing valuable days from your busy schedules.

I encourage all members to register early and take full advantage of this opportunity to connect with peers, learn from experts and contribute to the ongoing dialogue shaping the future of the copper and brass supply chain.

Stay tuned for more details and updates on the Red Metals Summit in the coming weeks. I look forward to seeing many of you in Chicago and working together to drive our industry toward greater success!
